As spiritual leaders in their respective religious traditions, a pastor and a rabbi shared their experience and perceptions about issues brought by women today and how these issues have changed overtime. In addition, a community member of the Muslim tradition was invited to speak. Since this program provided a platform from the Christian, Judaic and Muslim perspectives, we were reminded of the words of Poet/Author Maya Angelou, "We are more alike, my friends, than we are unlike". Feedback from the membership indicated that it increased their knowledge and understanding, particularly of the Muslim tradition where myths abound about the role of women.
